Chancellor's Message

"Every day as time goes on it becomes more evident how important higher education is to this fast growing Canada of ours. Lakehead University has a great role to play in the training and development of students to take their place in developing a great nation. I quote a very old ritual so fitting to our present day: "To learn to attain knowledge, to become wise is a necessity to every truly noble soul. To teach, to communicate that knowledge, to share that wisdom with others and not churlishly to lock up our exchequer and place a sentinel at the door to drive away the needy is equally the impulse of a noble nature and the worthiest work of man."

My continued interest and pride in our university is very great."

President's Message

This has been the first year in the formal history of Lakehead University, and I believe it has been an extremely good one. Perhaps it is because the University atmosphere and the challenges are new to me that they appear so interesting and fascinating. However, the combination of faculty and students seeking out knowledge should always be exciting. With the challenges that lie ahead for all of us, this atmosphere of excitement will continue for many years both within the University and beyond.

I cannot make comparisons with other institutions, but I am greatly impressed by the student body at Lakehead University. There are a great many of you pursuing your education under difficult circumstance for which you deserve tremendous credit. None of you have all the physical facilities of the University that you should have, and yet this has not detracted too seriously from your extracurricular activities. Your executive has assumed their responsibilities seriously and executed them efficiently. They have been a tremendous help to the administration on numerous occasions and have certainly been worthy representatives of the student body. The entire spirit of enthusiasm and co-operation of the students has been and will continue to be a vital factor in the growth and development of Lakehead University.

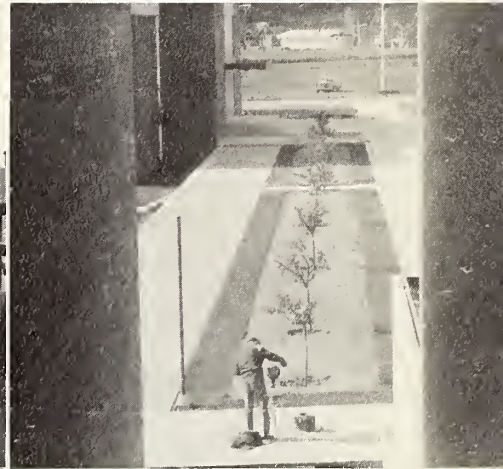

To those of you who are graduating this year or leaving to further your education elsewhere, we wish, with the utmost sincerity, that you achieve your goals and your fondest dreams in the years ahead. We pray that this University has helped you along your chosen path and has fulfilled its obligation to you in return for what you have done for it. We hope that as Alumni you will continue to feel that you are a part of this institution because, in fact, a part of you will always be here.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "W. Lambly". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a large loop at the end.

Editorial

Within the last two years I have discovered the pathway to a rich and rewarding undergraduate career. By submerging myself in obligations and responsibilities I have become associated with the "working part" of the student body. Their combined electrifying enthusiasm has made these years the most exciting and challenging years of my life.

To my staff, in particular Jerry Hashiguchi, I say thank you for the hours you devoted to this book. To Dr. Merrill, our advisor, I say thank you for your opinions and tolerance in our endeavour to make this book worthy of Lakehead University.

Alma Mater Society Council

President's Message

As the student enrolment rapidly increases over the next few years the Alma Mater Society Council must keep pace with this expansion by the addition of several new innovations that will provide a broader program for the students.

Several proposals of last year's Council have already been instituted, such as; participation in Canadian Union of Students, construction of student executive offices, and revision of the society structures.

To combat the increased responsibilities of the A. M. S. Council a full time secretary and business administrator are imperative in the coming year.

We feel that an accelerated extracurricular activities program introduced by a well planned orientation week will create a stronger and more unified university atmosphere.

In Memoriam

Janet Cox

The fairest lillies are the first to fall,
The sweetest first to fade,
The fondest, dearest, best of all,
At peaceful rest is laid.
As some sweet blossom droops and dies
When blighted by the frost,
She faded from before our eyes,
And all too soon was lost.
But in God's garden free from pain,
Where grow His fairest flowers,
We know that we shall meet again,
This fairest bloom of ours.

HAIDA

How stonily you stare at me,
How cold and distant,
And yet
I find solace here
Alone with you.
I come often
To contemplate the past.
Primitive you are,
Raven, frog, and grizzly bear,
Aged totems
To mystic spirits,
Cold and wind - swept Alone
You stand and stare
And age with me,
Upon this quiet hillside.

REVERY

Patiently
I await your coming
And watch the world pass by
In lusty disarray.
Flowers bloom, leaves fall, snow flies,
Each year brings memories and joys,
A multitude of sorrows.
Yet I remain untouched by all,
Aloof from every thing
Except the thought of you.....
I wait and find
The melancholy loneliness
More comforting
Than all the superficialities
Around me
Here

RESTLESS YOUTH

Routine inducing deep discontentment,
Excited bubbling trapped in a closed urn,
Why do I linger a singer of songs
That no longer charm my soul?
Why am I still a reader of books
That no longer calm my restless spirit?
The search still driving me, the quest still depriving me,
I'm thirsty, so thirsty--and all is parched dry;
Like autumn, all windblown and withering am I.

* * * * *

A glimmer of red in the sunset --
Perchance the spark will alight --
No night, but day,
No thirst unsatisfied, talent unexpressed,
But creative and vital, no interest suppressed,
New songs and new faces, erases the past,
Abloom as the summer, and wandering wild
'Mid scenes ever-changing, at last reconciled Within me, the torment and stifling seem Replaced by fulfillment --- cool, fresh as a stream.
This --- is my dream!

-- Vivien Masseau

DECEPTION

Painted glass --
A false friend;
Shadows pass
And chapters end.
Two the same,
Mirrored reflections,
Together came
By God's direction.
So in youth
I trusted her,
Who covered truth
With gossamer.
Friendship
And understanding,
Fin'ly grew
To reprimanding.

Witty, zealous,
Confiding tone
Turn'd cold and jealous,
Tense -- alone.
Broken mirror --
Reflections' loss,
Nothing here
But painted glass.
Two apart
We'll always be,
And in my heart --
A memory.
A lesson too
I'll keep with me:
"Woman, have Some mystery!"

-- Vivien Masseau

CONTEMPT

Pugnacious pantomime

God's active gigolos

Courting angels; naked fools

Nude in affluence

Entrepreneurs on a bearskin rug

Smiling saraphically

As humanity wallows in burned bills

Life without end

One armed ambidextrians painting with their toes

The Mona Lisa smiles and they wave back

God has dandruff

Yes

When all tomorrows are yesterdays

And the walls cry, Hold me up

And Christ was the 48th president of the United States

six years ago

Then their might be a purpose to oblivion.

Richard Smith

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF AN OLD MAN

My body lingers where I do not My thoughts,
My heart, my soul
Lie far beyond
Midst the grass
 in endless plains
 always green and fresh rich with a new dew
 and glazed with misty light

There I am
 my wife
And there I wait
To spend forever at your side
When He permits

I was nothing but a spark
An ember glowing amongst the dying coals
Don't mourn the ash
But light a new and warmer fire
By which to pass the night

And you, world
You magnificent thing
Not knowing from whence you came Nor where you're heading
 Ply on noble ship
 And God's Speed
